

CUSTOMER SEGMENTATION & BEHAVIORAL MATRIX

Project Type: Behavioral Clustering Analytics | Internship Assignment 02

DESIGNATED CUSTOMER CLUSTERS

Cluster 1: High-Spend Youth (Age 18–26)

- Characteristics: Low annual income, but extremely high spending drive.
- Preferred Categories: Electronics, Mobile Accessories, Fast-Fashion.
- Visual Trajectory: ██████████ 35% of Total Customer Base

Cluster 2: Steady Middle-Age (Age 35–50)

- Characteristics: Moderate-to-high income, cautious/value-driven spending metrics.
- Preferred Categories: Office Supplies, Home Utilities, Productivity Bundles.
- Visual Trajectory: ██████████ 45% of Total Customer Base

Cluster 3: Affluent Executives (Age 50+)

- Characteristics: High annual income alongside very high spending scores.
- Preferred Categories: Premium Hardware, Alpha Pro Laptops, Luxury Office Setups.
- Visual Trajectory: ██████████ 20% of Total Customer Base

 SEGMENT MATRIX DETAIL TABLE

| Customer Segment    | Avg. Income Scale | Primary Purchase Trigger                       | Targeted Marketing Action                                       |
|---------------------|-------------------|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|
| High-Spend Youth    | $15k – $25k     | Trend-driven, Social Media, New Gadgets        | Flash sales, installment payment options, influencer codes.     |
| Steady Middle-Age   | $60k – $80k     | Practicality, Long-term reliability, Discounts | Bundle discounts, utility warranties, email newsletters.        |
| Affluent Executives | $110k+           | Premium quality, Luxury status, Time-savers    | White-glove direct sales, early access to new product rollouts. |

Thiranex Customer Segmentation - K-Means Clustering

